In this training:

- Author will give a reading from her memoir, Raising a Rare Girl (a New York Times Book Review Editors' Choice and a Kate Bowler Everything Happens Book Club pick.)
- Share the parent's perspective of raising a child with a rare disability;
- Offer insights about ableism and reframe disability as an aspect of diversity;
- Discuss the importance of presuming competence in all kids;
- Inspire educators to help their students thrive through a strengths-based lens.
